David Teevan
Festival Director
Clonmel Junction Festival
Clonmel, Tipperary
Rep of Ireland

David was one of the founding members of Galloglass Theatre Company in 1990, managing the company for 11 years. As Company Manager and Creative Producer at Galloglass David was actively both to the development of the company's artistic programme and the overseeing of its finance, marketing and touring. In addition to biannual Irish tours, the company were regular visitors to Wales, England, Holland and France.

Since leaving Galloglass in 2001 David has been the driving force behind the very successful Clonmel Junction Festival, which takes place in July each year. This event, which runs for 10 days, has a diverse programme of theatre and music from Ireland and abroad, and a very comprehensive Participation Programme. The Festival is regarded as one of the premiere Irish multi arts festivals. (See www.junctionfestival.com).

In 2001 David also set up Ten42 Productions, a touring agency principally geared towards world music, theatre and dance. The company was the behind the revival of Irish folk legend Liam Clancy, and has managed the touring of the award winning Welsh contemporary circus company Nofit State in Ireland. Ten42 Productions has also organised tours for Rodrigo y Gabriella, French gypsy band Bratsch, Eamon Morrissey's The Brother, Michael Harding's much acclaimed production of The Tinkers Curse and Inis Theatre Company's Tick my Box, which included a run at Edinburgh Fringe Festival and a week in The English Theatre in Berlin.

David has recently completed with distinction a two year Masters in Executive Leadership at Ulster University.
